PRESS RELEASE

07/07/08

For immediate release

'VLADIMIR MCTAVISH' TO HEADLINE 'DIVERSE' PEOPLE'S FESTIVAL CABARET NIGHT

The Scots comedian Paul Sneddon, aka 'Vladimir McTavish', will headline the Edinburgh People's Festival's opening cabaret night this Saturday [9th Aug] at the Gaff Theatre in Craigmillar.

The event aims to celebrate the rich diversity and multicultural talent found throughout Edinburgh.

People's Festival spokesman Colin Fox said today about the full list of entertainers:

'As well as the hilarious Scots comic 'Vladimir McTavish', we are delighted to present Asian Scots author Suhayl Saadi performing a piece from his latest work, the Polish Scots poet Greg Rybak, African theatre troupe EKUA, and showcase the wonderful talents of up and coming Edinburgh singer Erin Todd. And to this richly diverse mix we add the music of 'Audibility' and classical guitarist Jan Straczynski.'

Curtain up at 7.30pm. Tickets just £2 on the door.
